

Source of financing	G r
	Research in the field of social and humanitarian sciences
	Research of actual problems of modern international relations international law, global, regional and cross-border geopolitical, geo-economic, geospatial processes
	Eurasian Economic Union: achievements and obstacles toward a regional security community
	R
	The project explores the Eurasian Economic Union (EAEU) as a regional security community on the way of establishment and development of a single market for goods, services, labor and capital in Russia, Kazakhstan, Belarus, Armenia and Kyrgyzstan.
	The overall goal is to demonstrate and explain the achievements and obstacles that the EAEU faces on the way of establishment of a regional security community in political, economic, social, ideological and geopolitical aspects of integration.
s	- for 2022: participation at one international conference; creation of a theoretical conceptual core based on the concept of “security communities” by K. Deutsch with the support of theses from transactionalism, liberal institutionalism and liberal intergovernmentalism; one offline lecture; analysis and preparation of a draft article. - for 2023: participation at two international conferences; publication of the first article in a journal indexed in the Arts and Humanities Citation Index or Social Sciences Citation Index of the Web of Science database or having a CiteScore percentile the Scopus database higher than 35;; preparation of drafts of 2 articles. - for 2024: conducting two offline lectures; publishing an article in a journal indexed in the Arts and Humanities Citation Index or Social Sciences Citation Index of the Web of Science database or having a CiteScore percentile the Scopus database higher than 35; writing and publishing of an article for a conference; writing and publishing a chapter of the monograph.
Target groups	representatives of the School of International Relations of the Republic of Kazakhstan, the EAEU countries and non-CIS countries